

Warehouse Assistant Role

Hafren Fasteners are a family run wholesale business established over 23 years ago. Stocking the widest range of security fasteners available, we are determined to become the global number one supplier of security fasteners. Our mission is to stamp out the impact of theft globally!

This position involves physical and demanding manual work. Depending on the aspirations of the right candidate it can be very much adapted but in general the role will involve:

- Breaking down bulk stock and repackaging ready for picking and packing
- Organising and packing products for the correct storing areas
- Ensuring the warehouse always operates efficiently and effectively
- Maintaining the warehouse, keeping all areas clean and tidy
- Other ad hoc warehouse tasks as required by the directors or warehouse manager

Working alongside and supporting our warehouse team, it is essential you have excellent communication skills and feel comfortable working in a team environment to be able to liaise and interact professionally with all personal. The role is full-time Monday to Friday with all weekends and bank holidays off.

Requirements:

- Reliability and responsibility
- Ability to pay attention to detail is critical
- Ability to multi-task, prioritize, and manage time effectively
- Ability to cope well under pressure in a physical working environment
- A positive, proactive, enthusiastic and motivational mindset
- Be used to following procedures and adhering to deadlines

This role is a fantastic opportunity for a focused, attentive and passionate person to move their career forward. Lunch is free daily for full time roles and depending on your experience and hours the salary is upwards of £17,000/year.

Is this for you? Please send your application and CV to careers@hafrenfasteners.com

Stamping out the impact of theft globally